*It is always better to have too much fabric rather than too little. Batiks work well for landscapes as they have color changes. Choose your sky first and then the rest of the fabrics that look nice with it. Don't be afraid to use colors and fabrics you love!

Bring various personal accents such as shells, twigs, laces and trims, gauze, rope and Prismacolor pencils if you have them. Images printed on cotton fabrics can be cut out and used for appliques such as birds, lighthouses, posts, children, grasses, boats, etc. I will teach you how to incorporate them into the scene and will have different designs to share with you.
